He makes the whole body fit together perfectly. As each part does it's own special work, it helps the other parts grow, so that the whole body is healthy and growing and full of love. ~ Ephesians 4:16

The Path of HOPE...

Dear Friends,

I thank God for the incredible work He has done in 2013 through Partners in Hope. It is a privilege to represent an organization with such a rich history of commitment to the people of our community. Partners in Hope, now 23 years old, continues to be on the forefront of efforts to not only provide Relief for those in crisis, but also continue to walk with families on their path of hope through programs of Education and Development.

Sharing the stories of our Partner Families and the many steps they have taken this year on their journeys to self-sufficiency comes easily for all of us at Partners in Hope. However, it is very difficult to single out just one story to represent the compelling and heartbreaking circumstance that motivate our families.

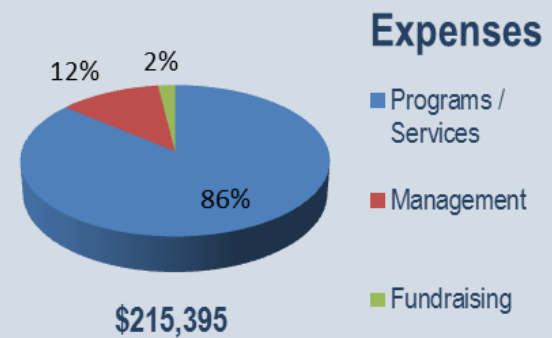

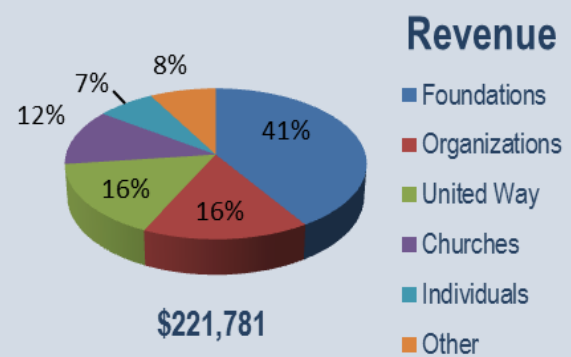

Who is our typical Partner Family? We could share the success of an unemployed mother of three. With support of Jobs for Life and the Troy Partner Family Circle, this rising star got a job, a driver's license, and now has a self-described "amazing life!" Her success came from the support we offered and her own determination. We could also share a story of an emergency effort that rescued an elderly couple who needed help during the past harsh sub-zero winter. Relief services came to their rescue because robbers had stolen the money they saved to fill the propane tank needed to heat their small rural home.

So many clients touched my heart during my first year at our agency. They are neighbors I will never forget. I will remember the young man who ran excitedly into our office to celebrate. His words were exhilarating, "I got it, I got the job... can you believe it?". I was also taken by the struggle and worries of the son who was not able to be with his father to help him overcome health issues. He was so thankful and credited the volunteer Caregivers driver with saving his dad's life. I could go on and on ... from the story of one family reunited after a six month separation due to fire and job loss, to the woman who started as a client receiving relief services just three years ago. She is now the woman facilitating the Getting Ahead program and representing Partners in Hope at a national convention!

The future is full of hope as we give opportunity to one Partner Family at a time, and I assure you that we will continue our mission to create partnerships that empower and bring HOPE to the path of each family who is brought to us. Thank you for supporting this journey of hope and most importantly, faith.

Faces of HOPE...

Love isn't a state of perfect caring. It is an active noun like struggle . To love someone is to strive to accept that person exactly the way he or she is right here and now. ~ Mr. Rogers
